Description: The Research and Development Cell (RDC) at R.A. Podar College of Commerce and Economics will be hosting an orientation session on July 24th to introduce students to the RDC and the prestigious Aavishkar research competition. This session aims to inspire students to explore research opportunities, challenge conventional wisdom, and engage in intellectual discourse. The event will cover college-hosted research platforms like Anvikshanam and Utkrisht, as well as intercollegiate events such as Shodh and Inquest. Faculty members and past participants will provide comprehensive insights into Aavishkar's structure, categories, and expectations, promoting a culture of inquiry and academic excellence
